Organization Agreement

Columbia's internship course provides students an opportunity to practice key areas of learning in their academic major in partnership with an organization in the community. The experience allows students to integrate theory and practice in dynamic ways in a safe and supervised environment. Organizations, specifically supervisors, have a vital role in providing a positive experience of integrated learning. Please ensure you are familiar with Columbia's expectations for hosting and supervising an intern.

17. We have read Columbia's current Internship Supervisor's Manual. We are committed to providing excellent supervision for any intern(s) working with our organization. *
