

SERVICE PRACTICUM OPPORTUNITY

Service Practicum placements involve volunteering as an experience of personal growth, vocational discernment, and community engagement. Placement types vary depending on student interest and program major. If the option below interests you, reach out to the contact person to begin the conversation (*denotes their preferred contact method).

Website: columbiabc.edu/experiential-learning
Experiential Learning Director: Jeff Peters – jeff.peters@columbiabc.edu
Service Practicum Assistant: Kelly Ens – kelly.ens@columbiabc.edu

ORGANIZATION: Metzger Collection

CONTACT PERSON: Greg Thiessen

EMAIL: metzgercollection@columbiabc.edu

PHONE:

POSITION TITLE: Metzger Collection Volunteer

JOB DESCRIPTION: The Metzger Collection is the museum on campus of largely replicas of artifacts and artwork placing the biblical story within the broader context of human history.

The volunteer position is primarily to maintain a presence during open hours in the Metzger Collection, and involves welcoming visitors, being available for questions, and working toward being able to offer visitors personal guided tours. The student is also intended to be an enthusiast of the Metzger Collection - encouraging fellow students to come, explore, and share the Collection with them.

Beyond this, in down times, there may be opportunity to help with various projects as part of the maintenance and development of the Metzger Collection, whether that is data entry, dimensions calculation and scale calculations, object research, exhibit prep, etc.

SKILLS REQUIRED: Personable and able to converse well with the public. Teaching skills an asset. Attention to detail an asset.

CRIMINAL RECORD CHECK REQ'D: No

NOTES:

SERVICE LOCATION: Abbotsford

TRANSPORTATION: On campus opportunity

DAY(S) OF THE WEEK: Wednesday or Friday

TIME FRAME: Between 11am and 4pm